Company Details:

Ken's Foods is one of the largest manufacturers of salad dressings and sauces in the U.S and are in the process of constructing a 368,000-square-foot manufacturing and distribution facility in Lebanon, Indiana! We are set to begin production in mid-April 2018. The new facility, which will be the company's first in the Midwest, will improve distribution logistics and support the growth of Ken's Foods product sales for both retail and food service. The 40-acre plot of land offers rail service and will provide the space needed for our company to potentially double its footprint in the future. Ken's currently operates three manufacturing facilities across the country, together producing more than 2,000 varieties of dressings and sauces under the Ken's Steak House, Sweet Baby Ray's and numerous private and chain labels for its food service and retail customers.
